Find the source of a popular news story about a health fact/claim

Complete this worksheet and hand it in to C. Glass at the beginning of class on Thurs Sept 20. You do NOT need to email anything to Catherine or Alison.

To find assignment guides for Health Sciences:

⇒ Go to the library website: http://www.langara.ca/library/
⇒ Assignment Help → Health Sciences → HSCI 1130... (Glass)

Click on the link to the CBC news story “Night owls face higher risk of premature death, study says”. Skim the first section of the article, up until the “Win-win in the workplace’ section.

1. Write down the author and publication date of this CBC news story:
   ____________________________

2. This section of the story is based on a study of half a million adults from which country?
   ____________________________

   Click on the hyperlinked text “the researchers followed almost half a million...” to find the scientific source for this news story.

3. Write down the title of the article:
   ____________________________

4. Write down the journal title and date of this article:
   ____________________________

   Read the abstract of the scientific article.

5. Does the CBC news article accurately represent the study findings, yes or no? Briefly explain your rationale.
   ____________________________________________
   ____________________________________________